respectively, in the New York Association for Pupil Transportation Suffolk County Chapter's 2016 School Bus Safety Poster Contest in the Kindergarten through Second Grade Division. Both of these Port Jefferson Station residents are students at the Clinton Avenue Elementary School within the Comsewogue School District. During the legislative recognition, the students were accompanied by Jeanne Lupton, the Comsewogue School District's Transportation Coordinator.

Over 2.3 million children ride a yellow school bus to and from school each day in New York State. To encourage and remind motorists of proper driving behaviors in and around school buses and school zones, the New York Association for Pupil Transportation sponsors an annual poster contest for school aged children. This year's theme "#STOP ON RED!" became the rally cry on all of the posters entered and will forever inspire all who see these student's submitted design to drive with care when approaching a school bus.
