CALARCO MEETS WITH ATTORNEY GENERAL ERIC SCHNEIDERMAN

HAUPPAUGE, N.Y. – Deputy Presiding Officer Rob Calarco took part in a Legislative Roundtable with New York State Attorney General this past Tuesday. The roundtable was organized by the Attorney General, who has been meeting with local municipalities about their issues and priorities.

“When the Attorney General called to arrange to speak with us, I was thrilled,” stated Deputy Presiding Officer Rob Calarco. “It is so important that various levels of government come together to come up with solutions to often very complicated problems.”

Attorney General Schneiderman spoke to a bipartisan group of 13 legislators for over an hour. Topics included the foreclosure crisis and the resulting zombie properties, illegal environmental dumping and the growing opiate addiction epidemic on Long Island.

“Thank you to the Attorney General for taking time out of his schedule,” said Deputy Presiding Officer Calarco. “That he came to Suffolk County to discuss some of our most pressing issues indicates to me that the health, safety and wellbeing of our residents are among his top priorities.”
