UPTON, NY – Legislator Sarah Anker joined with fellow County Legislators on a tour of the Brookhaven National Lab’s Solar Farm on January 24th. The tour was led by officials from Brookhaven National Lab and LIPA.

“The work that is happening at Brookhaven National Lab is truly amazing,” said Legislator Anker. “They are leading the way in innovative development and research that will help provide jobs and lead the future of Suffolk County’s economic growth.”

The Solar Farm is a partnership between Brookhaven National Lab, Long Island Power Authority, BP Solar and the US Department of Energy. It is a 32-megawatt solar photovoltaic power plant that provides renewable energy to over 4,500 homes.
