MT. SINAI, NY – Legislator Sarah Anker recently hosted a school district legislative roundtable to discuss various matters facing local districts. Officials from Longwood, Miller Place, Mt. Sinai, Rocky Point and Shoreham Wading River School Districts were in attendance.

Legislator Anker, Chairwoman of the Education & IT Committee stated “Education is a priority that helps prepare our kids for future jobs and we must find ways to provide tax relief for our residents without sacrificing quality education.”

“It is apparent that unfunded state mandates are taking a huge toll on local district budgets,” said Legislator Anker. “I look forward to working with our state officials in seeking relief from these mandates.”

Topics discussed included potential curriculum collaborations with Suffolk Community College and Suffolk Police Department gang and drug awareness programs.
