MT. SINAI, NY – Suffolk County Legislator Sarah Anker hosted a Green Energy Summit for Contractors on June 4th at the Heritage Center in Mt. Sinai. The event provided information on how government can help the expanding green energy field. Guest speakers Neal Lewis, Executive Director of the Sustainability Institute at Molloy College, and Rosemary Olsen of the Community Development Corporation spoke about new and upcoming programs and opportunities that will benefit green contractors. In addition, Legislator Anker solicited input on how Suffolk County can help create jobs in the green industry.

“This event facilitated important dialog in understanding how government can support our green energy businesses. As Brookhaven Town’s former Energy Director, I look forward to supporting proactive measures to increase sustainable green energy projects.” said Legislator Anker.
