Supporting Long Island's Solar Industry

Bohemia, NY, July 2013 – Legislator Sarah Anker joined Long Island Solar Energy Industries Association (LISEIA) for their annual summer barbecue on Wednesday, July 17th. Participants included owners and employees of Long Island solar energy companies such as KPS Solar, Clean Energy Solutions, and Empire Clean Energy Supply.

“I’d like to thank LISEIA for its commitment to promoting sustainable energy solutions in Suffolk County,” said Legislator Anker. “The organization has shown great support for the local community.”

LISEIA represents the local solar business on Long Island. The organization works with municipalities, non-profits, utilities, and private companies to support the advancement of solar energy. For more information, visit www.liseia.org.
