Legislator Anker Updates Shoreham Civic

Legislator Sarah Anker points to coastal erosion along north shore bluffs.

Shoreham, New York- Legislator Sarah Anker attended the Shoreham Civic Association's February meeting and spoke with members about the newly created North Shore Coastal Erosion Task Force, which will provide insight and guidance for severe coastal erosion. She also provided an update on the status of the Rails to Trails project, which continues to advance, and briefed members on current legislative action. Legislator Anker also spoke about legislation she has sponsored that requires all retailers selling liquid nicotine to display a warning sign in an effort to keep the chemical away from children. In addition, Legislator Anker is working to improve school traffic safety with legislation to create a School Traffic Safety Zone Commission.

Friends of Nikola Tesla gave an update on the Tesla museum progress, and a local community group, Citizens for Justice, provided an update of the Shoreham solar industrial array set to be constructed by S-Power at the DeLalio sod farm. Citizens for Justice has filed a lawsuit in an effort to postpone the project until more community input has been considered and concerns are addressed.

"From its majestic bluffs to its extensive farmland, Shoreham is a beautiful and historic town. I'm proud to be part of the historical legacy by providing support with grant funding for the museum and advocating for the community in their effort to keep its rural character," said Legislator Anker.

The Shoreham Civic Association meets on the third Wednesday of each month at the Miller Avenue School in Shoreham at 7:30pm. For more information go to:
