Legislator D'Amaro Informs Residents: Suffolk County Sponsored Job Fairs Scheduled for North Babylon and South Huntington

Pictured here at a previous Job Fair, Legislator D'Amaro (left) discusses employee assistance programs with Santos Abrilz, business representative for the Suffolk County Department of Labor

(HUNTINGTON STATION... January 11, 2011) - The job market remains competitive and many people are still seeking employment during this challenging time. Accordingly, Suffolk County Legislator Lou D'Amaro (D-Huntington Station) wants to remind community members that, under the auspices of the Suffolk County Workforce Investment Board, the County offers a variety of programs to assist residents in their job searches through the One-Stop Employment

Center. Among the services available are the County's award-winning Job Fairs, with the next one scheduled for Tuesday, January 25 at the North Babylon Public Library, 815 Deer Park Avenue in North Babylon. Following that, the Department of Labor will be hosting a job fair on Wednesday, February 9 at the South Huntington Public Library, 145 Pigeon Hill Road in Huntington Station. Both will be held from 10 am -1 pm.

"The Job Fairs offer a unique opportunity for prospective employees and employers to meet and exchange information in a comfortable yet professional atmosphere," said Legislator D'Amaro.

Employers will discuss part time and full time positions and job seekers are asked to bring their resumes and "dress for success." For more information, contact the North Babylon Library at (631) 669-4020 or the South Huntington Library at (631) 549-4411.

For information on locations of other upcoming Job Fairs or Suffolk County One-Stop Employment Center services, including workshops, job placement assistance and career counseling, visit the website at www.suffolkcountyny.gov/labor or call (631) 853-6600.
