juniors and seniors on their selection into the National Honor Society (NHS) during the Fall induction ceremony.

Joining Town of Babylon Supervisor Rich Schaffer, Legislator D'Amaro welcomed current Honor Society members, relatives, teachers, district administrators and other guests at the ceremony, held in the high school auditorium on December 17. D'Amaro presented the inductees with special Proclamations following his speech in which he encouraged the new members to stay involved with their school and community activities and continue to act as leaders throughout their lives.

Established in 1921, the NHS honors those students who have demonstrated excellence in Scholarship, Leadership, Service, and Character, according to the organization's charter. It is estimated that more than 1 million students participate in NHS activities. Chapter membership not only recognizes students for their academic accomplishments, but also challenges them to develop further through active involvement in school activities and community service.

"It is a privilege to return to Deer Park High School and offer my personal congratulations to the newest members of the National Honor Society," said D'Amaro. "Each philanthropic student is a role-model for their peers and the entire community. They are extremely deserving of our praise, appreciation and respect, and I look forward to hearing more great things about them as they follow their own individual paths to success."
