Share Your Love of Reading during National “I Love to Read Month” by Donating to Legislator D’Amaro’s Community Book Drive

(HUNTINGTON STATION, NY... February 4, 2013) –February is National “I Love to Read” month and Suffolk Legislator Lou D’Amaro (D-Huntington Station) is pleased to announce that he is currently hosting a book drive to help fill the book shelves of local community and senior centers.

According to Legislator D’Amaro, he has had the most requests for books from some of our adult communities but any and all books are welcome. Gently used books may be dropped off at his district office, located at 130 West Jericho Turnpike in Huntington Station, any time Monday through Friday between 9 am and 5 pm. The office will be collecting books through Thursday, February 28 and then delivering them the first week in March. Feel free to include a small note on a separate piece of paper inside any book with a message for its future owner!

“Nothing opens our world more than a good book, and I hope that everyone will take this opportunity to clean out their shelves and share their favorites with a fellow bibliophile,” Legislator D’Amaro said. “I thank everyone in advance for supporting the local community with their generosity.”
