Legislator Tom Muratore Honors Janine Stange for Performing our National Anthem in all 50 States

Hauppauge, NY – At the September 9th General Meeting of the Suffolk County Legislature, Legislator Tom Muratore (R-Ronkonkoma) and his colleagues honored Janine Stange, also known as the “National Anthem Girl.”

Suffolk County native Janine Stange recently made history by completing her mission to sing the "Star Spangled Banner" at events in all 50 states in the nation. This goal has been reached in time for the 200th anniversary of Francis Scott Key writing the song on September 14, 1814.

In addition to performing our National Anthem at events, Janine Stange also sets up tables with blank "thank you" cards for fans to write messages of gratitude to our deployed military and veterans. Each card goes into an Operation Gratitude military care package.

“It is a pleasure to recognize Ms. Stange,” stated Legislator Muratore. “By sharing her musical talent throughout America, Janine expresses her patriotism and support of our military past and present. The accomplishment of singing the National Anthem in all fifty states is worthy of our congratulations.”
