Fort Salonga Elementary Student Rebecca McNaughton Recognized by Suffolk County Legislator Robert Trotta at the County Legislature

Pictured at the Suffolk County Legislature are Suffolk County Legislator Robert Trotta and Rebecca McNaughton of Fort Salonga with her “Be Pool Smart” poster and proclamation.

Suffolk County Legislator Robert Trotta (rear, right) visited the third grade class of Denise Horowitz (rear, second from left) to present her students with certificates for entering in the “Be Pool Smart” poster contest and to present Rebecca McNaughton (center, front) with a proclamation for taking second place. The Fort Salonga Elementary School principal Stephanie Montecalvo is also in the photo (rear, left).

(Smithtown, NY)... Suffolk County Legislator Robert Trotta was proud to recognize Rebecca McNaughton, a third grade student at the Fort Salonga Elementary School, who came in second in the annual “Be Pool Smart” Poster Contest. Elementary students from throughout Suffolk County participate in the contest and the winning poster is reproduced as the cover of the “Be Pool Smart” brochure, which is published by the Suffolk County Health Department.

“The poster contest was initiated in 2007 in order to promote the importance of pool safety and to provide tips to prevent drowning,” said Legislator Robert Trotta, who also thanked Ms. Denise Horowitz, the third grade Fort Salonga Elementary School teacher, for having her students participate in this educational and potentially lifesaving program.
