Suffolk County Legislator Kevin J. McCaffrey (R – Lindenhurst) was honored to join with members of the Babylon Chamber of Commerce to welcome their newly installed officers. Babylon Village Mayor Ralph Scordino had the distinct privilege of administering the oath of office to the new leaders, all of whom are very excited to assume their new roles.

“These new officers are some of the finest examples of what it means to give back to the community,” said McCaffrey. “Our local chambers of commerce work tirelessly to improve the business climate in our towns and villages, and that is crucial. Our economy will only recover if our local businesses prosper and create the jobs we need to keep our families here on Long Island. I have every confidence that the Babylon Chamber is well equipped to tackle these ends head-on. It was truly an honor to join with Mayor Scordino to congratulate these officers.”
